This list of works translated into Chinese includes some of the leading and most influential writings by American scholars in corporate and financial law over the last twenty years. Without these works being available in Chinese, scholars and law makers in China would have to rely on summaries of these works, which would restrict their capacity to develop a fuller understanding of the frontiers of corporate law research at the international level. The translation has generated wide interests in China and therefore made a very important contribution to scholarship.

SUMMARY STATEMENT

I am currently Chair Professor in the Faculty of Law of the Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK). Prior to joining CUHK, I was a tenured staff member in the Faculty of Law at the University of New South Wales (UNSW), where I now hold a position of Adjunct Professor. I am also Li Ka Shing Visiting Professor in McGill Law School, Honorary Professor at East China University of Political Science and Law, as well as visiting positions at many prestigious institutions such as Harvard Law and Oxford Law. I received two bachelor degrees – in mechanical engineering and in law – and a Masters degree in law, from Tsinghua University, and a PhD in law from UNSW.

I am an internationally recognized expert specializing in corporate law, securities regulation, financial regulation, foreign investment, and law & technology, with a particular focus on the case of China, from comparative and empirical perspectives. I have had more than 150 publications in my areas of expertise, with articles published in top-rated journals in the US, the UK, Australia, Canada, Germany, Israel, Hong Kong, Mainland China, and elsewhere, including American Journal of Comparative Law (3 times),¹ Vanderbilt Journal of Transnational Law, Delaware Journal of Corporate Law, Journal of Corporate Law Studies, Banking and Finance Law Review, European Business Organization Law Review, Journal of International Economic Law, as well as Chinese core law journals such as Chinese Journal of Law [法学研究], China Legal Science [中国法学], Peking University Law Journal [中外法学] and Tsinghua Law Review [清华法学]. I have also published more than 10 books with reputable publishers such as Oxford University Press and Cambridge University Press.

I have received various awards and honors, including the 9th Higher Education Outstanding Scientific Research Output Award (PRC Ministry of Education), CUHK Research Excellence Award for three times,² Young Researcher Excellence Award, High Impact in Legal Scholarship Award and Teaching Excellence Award. I am Vice-president of China Securities Law Society, Executive Council Member of the China Commercial Law Society and China Banking Law Society, as well as a member of several other professional associations in the US, the EU and Australia. I am one of a handful of overseas law experts that receive the prestigious title of ‘One-Thousand Talents’ (千人计划, hosted by Tsinghua University). I am also invited to serve on the editorial board of internationally reputable law journals.

My research has high impact locally and internationally, having informed judicial decisions as well as regulatory and legislative activities (e.g., cited with approval by the High Court of the Republic of Singapore, Delaware Chancery Court in the US, Southern District Court of New York). I have also been engaged as an expert advisor by international organizations (e.g., World Bank), the Supreme People’s Court of China (Expert for Ascertainment of Foreign Law), Shanghai Financial Court (Member of Advisory Committee)³, government agencies, arbitration commissions, stock exchanges and private sectors. I am also invited to serve as Independent Non-executive Director of listed companies in Hong Kong.

² I am the only professor of CUHK LAW to receive this award for three times.

³ I am the only one from outside Mainland China to sit on such a high-level judicial committee.
